For those of you who would like to see more pictures, learn more about the Pryor's in PNG or would be willing to help us spread the word about the ministry of OIPNG we have uploaded a few short videos that are on Youtube.

The easiest way to find them is to search "malolomanki" we used this unique phrase so that it will be easier to find. To view our short trailer video you can click on the picture above and it will take you right there. Happy viewing!

Made it to Moresby

For those of you following the saga with our scholarship students, all three teachers have finally been accepted and are attending classes at the PNG Education Institute in Port Moresby, PNG.

This is a big opportunity for these teacher's as they have taught for 3-4 years without formal recognition from the government. This one year certificate training course in elementary education will enable them to begin collecting pay for their hard work. We ask that you keep the teachers and their families in your prayers as they will not be able to go back home until December. They are having difficulties adjusting to the climate and diet of town but they have assured us that the class load is not too much for them and they feel as though they have been prepared well by the shorter courses we have offered through the years.

We have been working on our website! For those of you who have looked in vain for current information we apologize. We have finally gotten the new pictures and information loaded on our pages. We encourage you to head to the website and check it out for yourself. A big thanks to Jonathon Longnecker at Forty-Seven Media for helping set up and maintain this website! Thank you for your patience as we continue to improve our communication and information sources.
